

Privacy Policy

Last Updated: October 14, 2015

Cloaked™ is an application that utilizes Active Screenshot Protection™, a new, patented method of displaying highly sensitive communications in a manner that is safer than any previous method available. We place the highest level of importance on the safety of your personal information and the messages you send and receive. We have designed our application with extremely secure encryption. Additionally, messages, photos, and videos sent and received are only stored on sender and recipient devices rather than accumulated and retained for long periods of time on vulnerable storage servers which greatly reduces the risk of your information becoming compromised. The contents of your messages (texts, photos, videos, GIFs) are only temporarily kept on our servers until the messages are delivered to the recipient. Once the messages are delivered the contents of the messages are deleted from our servers and the contents only reside on the sender and recipient devices.

We believe that your personal communications should not only be private and safe, but also deletable at all times. We have taken the extraordinary step to allow for any message, photo, video, or even an entire conversation to be deleted from all devices by either the sender or recipient of the information at any time (subject to connectivity). This unprecedented approach provides you with assurances that have never been available in any medium.

This Privacy Policy explains how information about you is collected, used and disclosed by Cloaked Display Technologies LLC and FunVid Apps LLC (Collectively, "CloakedCo") when you use our websites, mobile applications and other online products and services (collectively, the "Services") or when you otherwise interact with us.

We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time. If we make changes, we will notify you by revising the date at the top of the policy and, in some cases, we may provide you with additional notice (such as adding a statement to our websites' homepages or sending you a notification). We encourage you to review the Privacy Policy whenever you access the Services to stay informed about our information practices and the ways you can help protect your privacy.

Collection of Information

Information You Provide to Us

We collect information you provide directly to us. For example, we collect information when you create an account, use the Services to send or receive a message, photo, video, or GIF (a "Cloak"), request customer support or otherwise communicate with us. The types of information we may collect include your username, password, email address, phone number, age and any other information you choose to provide.

When you send or receive Cloaks, we also temporarily collect, process and store the contents of the Cloaks (such as messages, photos, videos and/or captions) on our servers. In order to maximize our users protection, once the Cloaks are delivered to the recipient the contents of the Cloaks are deleted from our servers. As a result of this deletion it greatly reduces the risk of your information being compromised since the contents of the Cloaks resides on the servers for only the period of time required for the Cloaks to be delivered to the recipients.

For maximum security, the contents of Cloaks are only stored on the devices of senders and recipients once the Cloaks are delivered. With respect to Cloaks sent with Active Screenshot Protection™ enabled, once all recipients have viewed the message, we automatically make our best effort to delete the Cloak from the recipients' and senders devices. We cannot guarantee that deletion always occurs within a particular timeframe. However, in most cases these deletions take place within seconds of the message being viewed or revoked. We also cannot prevent others from making copies of your Cloaks (e.g. by taking a screenshot, using an external recording device, etc.). In addition, as for any other digital information, there may be ways to access Cloaks while still in temporary storage on recipients' devices or, forensically, even after they are deleted. You should not use Services to send messages if you want to be certain that the recipient or other party cannot keep a copy.
